Imbruvica: Medicare Enrollee Use and Spending

This Fact Sheet provides information on Imbruvica, one of the 10 drugs selected for the first cycle of Medicare drug price negotiations. Imbruvica (active ingredient imbrutinib) is a small molecule drug used to treat blood cancers.

- Between 2018 and 2022, average annual total Part D spending per enrollee taking Imbruvica (i.e., the total amount, including Medicare, plan, and enrollee payments, spent on Imbruvica per person) increased by 51 percent (from $85,128 to $128,548).
- From 2018 through 2022, the average annual out-of-pocket spending per enrollee increased by 36 percent (from $3,854 to $5,247).

Table 1 presents data on utilization and spending for Imbruvica among Part D enrollees. About 22,000 Part D enrollees filled prescriptions for Imbruvica in 2022. Relative to the total Part D population, a greater share of Imbruvica users were men (58 percent vs. 44 percent), ages 75 or older (51 percent vs. 37 percent), and White non-Latinos (81 percent vs. 72 percent).
